to inform importers and manufacturers have attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared Cocos, but we doubt whether any thorough success has been achieved until Messrs Taylor Brothers have introduced the extraordinary quantities of "Maravilla" Cocos.

Adding the best system of preparation to the finest of all specimens of the "Guinevere" they have produced an article which surpasses every other Cocos in the market, is more palatable, a delicate aroma and a rare and contrasting third element of nutrition, distinguish the Maravilla from all other Cocos. For Homeopaths and Invalids we could not recommend more agreeable and valuable beverage.

Sold in packets only by all Grocers, of whom also may be obtained the "Guinevere" Original Chocolate Cocos and SOLUBLE CHOCOLATE.

Victoria, June 14th, 1869. Jelt 1m*

Saturday Morning, July 3, 1869.

We published yesterday the very able letter of our correspondent in North Wales on the subject of emigration thence to this Colony. He evidently feels deeply interested in the subject, and throws out some valuable hints touching the character of emigrants likely to come out to us and the possible cost for passage, &c. His ideas on the subject of the number to be sent forward are perhaps a little in advance of the time; our capacity to absorb is not equal to such a number at present; but he shows very clearly that we can have all the material of the right kind we are able to receive and pay for. It would be injudicious to bring out a large number at one time; as the population increased here, the means of disposing of the immigrants would increase in proportion, and the number could be gradually increased after the third or fourth party had arrived. The passengers should be judiciously selected for each party; for instance, a proportion of single females should come out with a certain number of families; such parties could be alternated with single men and families, so that proper consideration could be given to the protection and moral conduct of all; the arrivals should not be more frequent than every two or three months to begin with, thus allowing of the whole of one party being comfortably settled before the next arrives. A proper place for their reception should be provided in this city, and a committee formed of our citizens, a proportion of whom being clergymen, who should attend in turn and receive the immigrants on their arrival, and see them comfortably housed and cared for until the farm or employment had been fixed upon. One thing is very evident: we must pay the whole expenses of the earlier parties: for, when our Colony becomes known at home by means of those whom we bring out in the first ships, assisted passages will then be sufficient, and in course of time, the flow will be strong enough without any aid from the colonists except that sent privately to assist immediate friends. We are glad to learn that the possible cost will be under the estimate formed here, so that immediate arrangements might be made for a first party, and that would give ample time for the dispatch of a second after the requisite funds had been subscribed here to be added to the Government advance. In this way we should soon people this Colony with an industrious, loyal and steady population, far superior to any newly-arrived immigrants as a body, on the American continent, and purely homogenous. The sexes would also be so well proportioned that we should save the press a vast deal of mis-spent sentiment usually wasted on the wandering bipeds that reach our shores from the neighboring continent like wails and strays, to be carried back whenever they have abstracted from our mines sufficient gold to give them some short-lived enjoyment in its expenditure in an alien country. Such people are an absolute misfortune for the Colony, as they are robbing us of the means that nature has so bountifully provided us with to build it up. We are fully convinced with our correspondent that the virtuous conjugal state, the sanctity of home and of home life, is the very basis and foundation of national wellbeing. It is patent to every inhabitant of this Colony that the paucity of population is one great reason of the slowness of our development. A matter like the increase of permanent population that interests everybody, should enlist the aid and sympathy of all. Let the whole Colony be canvassed, and let everyone subscribe his or her mite towards so beneficial a scheme: we feel quite sure that funds would be forthcoming for all the requirements of at least the three or four first parties; the movement would then have received all the necessary impetus and with very little stimulant would continue to increase in volume. Some advantage could be offered to subscribers of, say one hundred dollars, in having the preference, all things being consonant, in choice of a wife or domestic servant, as the case may be. The proposed scheme for the increase of our population is vitally important to the Colony, and everyone is interested therein; with a population such as that suggested by our correspondent we should have the safest guarantee to capitalists who would eagerly invest their capital in a country where industry, frugality and morality prevailed. The natural wealth of the country is unquestionable; the population is the power of eliminating it; let us secure the population and the rest is easy. Who will refuse to help in so good a cause? If such there be, let him be marked; he is an enemy to the Colony.

We experience a feeling of satisfaction in knowing that we have gentlemen among us who, having the ability, are prepared to exercise it for the best interests of the Colony when called upon. A number of our merchants assembled yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce to consider the future prospects of the Colony, and to take such measures as the circumstances made necessary to have the views of the citizens laid before the attention of the new Governor when he arrives. The most important question before the meeting was the advisability of asking that Victoria [or Vancouver Island] should be made a free port of entry which seems to have been almost unanimously agreed to. Other matters, such as conditions for the future confederation of this Colony with Canada, were also discussed, and a committee appointed to draft an address to His Excellency to be presented in proper course. We may be permitted without, we trust, being thought intrusive, to recommend that the whole of the conditions as previously discussed should be given due prominence, namely: Free Port, Reciprocity, Overland Communication and the Annual Subsidy. These considerations are so intimately connected that they should be made a sine qua non of Confederation.

A Jewish Divorce.

From the Washington Star, May 21st.

Yesterday morning a rather novel religious rite was performed in this city by Rabbi Phillips and Rabbi Michler, of New York, who came here expressly for the purpose. Lately there had been considerable talk among the Israelites of this city in regard to domestic difficulties in the family of Mr. Bernard Burnstone, pawnbroker, Thirteenth street. Mrs. Burnstone alleged ill treatment on the part of her husband, and it is understood that her father and brothers and her husband came in collision in consequence of these difficulties. Mr. Burnstone, on his side, made allegations against his wife, and, altogether, affairs got to such an unpleasant condition that a mutual separation was deemed advisable.

It has been reported that the service divorcing Mr. and Mrs. B. Burnstone would take place at the Jewish Synagogue, on Eighth street, about noon yesterday, and a considerable number of persons assembled there, but were informed that the services would take place in private, at the residence of the parties, about three o'clock. The Rabbi above named, Mr. J. S. Jacobson, the reader of the congregation, Mr. M. Mandelheim, and a few others assembled at the residence about one o'clock, and articles of divorcement having been agreed upon were transcribed on parchment. The formal separation took place about as follows: Rabbi Phillips having taken his position with Rabbi Michler and Mr. Jacobson on either side, the parties were brought in, and, facing the Rabbi, certain passages of the Pentateuch were read, as also, the divorcement article on parchment. The wife was then called forward and her face uncovered and her hands were placed together, the thumbs upward and extended. Rabbi Phillips asked certain questions of the husband which were answered, and placed the parchment in his hands and he advanced toward her, placing it in her hands, and in turn the Rabbi took it. Messrs Jacobson and Mandelheim having attested their names as witnesses to file with the record of the church, the ceremony here closed and shortly after Mrs. B. left the room.

By this ceremony, founded on Deuteronomy xxiv, 1, 2, 3 and 4, the parties are separated and free—the husband to marry another at any time, and the wife to marry after ninety-one days have passed, but not to a descendant of the tribe of Levi.

Our civil laws, however, would prohibit either party from marrying again, unless they first obtain a decree of divorce through the Courts.

It is understood that in the articles of divorcement Mrs. B. is well provided for, and in a few days the necessary legal papers will be executed vesting certain property in her.

Both the parties are well known in this city, and were married in New York about six years since, but have no children.

Disraeli.
A writer in the Gentleman's Magazine gives a sketch of the late Prime Minister, which may find a place among the curiosities of politics and literature:

"In his youth, Mr. Disraeli had the reputation of being one of the handsomest men about town. He and Bulwer Lytton and D'Oursay were the heroes of Lady Blessington's stories. Those who knew him then tell you of a youth of lithe and limber figure, of handsome features, of dark flashing eyes and ambrosial curls; of a youth who, like his own Vivian Gray, was the envy of men and the admiration of women, and who too, like Vivian Gray, was distinguished by his wit and eloquence and his wild ambition, not less than by his personal traits. But time and time's attendant, thought and passion, have wrought their usual havoc. Those ambrosial curls are nearly all gone. The rich olive complexion has lost its bloom. The eye alone retains its lustre, and that is still deep, glowing and brilliant as it was thirty years ago. In that you may still trace the Adonis of Gore House. But the glittering son of Aurora is now on the shady side of sixty, and is at the highest point of his daring ambition; and the long and often bitter struggle of those thirty years have left their mark upon him. There is a haggard expression about Mr. Disraeli's features, which say even more than his words: 'I have come to this assembly like one comes from the heat of combat, to repair to the pure flow of some pellucid stream to slake the thirst of battle.' The proud dignified smile which plays upon his lips speaks with mute eloquence to the House of Commons. You may trade in that Vi-van Gray's motto to smile for a friend and a sneer for the world; and though I believe Mr. Disraeli is in private one of the most genial of men, the most marked and distinguishing expression of his face is an expression of pride and of deep and bitter scorn. Yet no one ought to be surprised at either of these expressions who reflects on Mr. Disraeli's origin, his pride of race, his daring ambition, and the long and bitter personal contests he has gone through in the House of Commons to attain the high position which he holds to-day by favor and command of his sovereign.

Admiralty Court.

Frid'y, July 2nd, 1869.
Re Byzantium.—The seamen claimed for their wages, the captain claimed for his wages and disbursements; and the executrix of J. W. Trahey for his repairs done on the vessel as materialman. Mr. Wood, instructed by Drake, Jackson & Aikman, for two of the seamen and captain St. Clair; Mr. Bishop for the carpenter; Mr. McCreight, instructed by Perkins & Davis, for Mrs Trahey, executrix of J. W. Trahey.

The Chief Justice gave judgment for seamen's wages up to the time of going into Trahey's yard, and three months wages for expenses to take them home; no further sum to the seamen, as the promissory lien of Trahey as materialman, which had not been lost, continued from the time of taking the vessel into the yard until the seizure by the Admiralty Court. As between Trahey and Captain St. Clair the former was entitled to precedence. The fund in court was unfortunately insufficient to pay all parties. The costs of the seamen, of Trahey the materialman, and the captain, to come out of the fund in court.

CENSUS RETURNS OF NANAIMO TOWN AND DISTRICT.—The population of Nanaimo—according to census returns by authority—is 697; of which 32 are colored males, 40 colored females, and 31 Chinese males. 67 persons are engaged in agriculture; 185 in mining; 18 in trade; manufactures, none. During the year 1868 and three months of 1869, there were 58 births, 10 marriages and 7 deaths. The total number of persons committed to prison during the year was 62, of whom 10 were females and the greatest number in gaol at one time was 8. In agriculture the district is advancing. There were 25 acres of wheat sown; 38 1/2 of barley; 299 1/4 of oats; 24 of peas; 86 of potatoes; 47 1/2 garden stuff; total acres under cultivation, 520. The horses number 32; cattle, 1051; sheep, 30; pigs, 944. The total output of the coal for the year 1868 was 42,715 tons. The children number 258—119 males and 139 females. There are two schools, the average attendance upon which is 44. The resident freeholders are 46; non resident 54. Of the adult male population, 93 are from England, 20 from Wales; 43 from Scotland; 8 from Ireland; 6 from British Colonies; 16 from foreign countries. We are indebted for these interesting statistics to a gentleman of Nanaimo. Why do not the Government improve upon the idea and have a census taken of all the towns and districts.

REAL ESTATE.—The house and lot on Pandora street formerly owned by P. M. Backus, auctioneer, were sold yesterday at auction by J. P. Davies & Co, for $1400, in satisfaction of a mortgage of $1000 and accrued interest. This property was the celebrated Angelo residence. Angelo was head clerk in the Collector of Customs' Office, in 1858, and embezzled large sums of money, for which offence he was convicted, sent to prison and fined $1000. To satisfy the fine the government levied upon the defaulter's residence, but owing to a technical omission in the writ of attachment, it was never enforced, and the fine was subsequently remitted.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.—To perpetrate a bull, the fourth of July falls upon the fifth this year, and the loyal Americans of Puget Sound and elsewhere are preparing to celebrate it in a manner becoming to the great occasion which it represents. At Olympia and all the Sound towns, there will be a general suspension of business. On San Juan Island most extensive preparations are being made. The Wilson G. Hunt, which sails hence this morning with excursionists, will return on Tuesday evening before dark.

FROM NANAIMO AND WAY PORTS.—The Sir James Douglas, Capt. Clarke, arrived at 4 o'clock yesterday from Nanaimo and way ports, bringing six passengers, among whom were J. Trutch, Esq., and J. Morley, Esq., J. P. She also brought 4 head of cattle, 2 calves, a number of pigs and other produce. The Satellite arrived at Nanaimo on Thursday afternoon. She has on board the Indian to be hanged at Salt Spring, and those to be hanged at Barclay Sound. The ship Cowper was loading at Nanaimo for San Francisco.

WE are in receipt of a circular from W. S. S. Green, Esq., asking our citizens to aid him in the compilation of a pamphlet for distribution in England describing our resources, lands for pre-emption, remuneration for labor, &c. We cannot imagine a more important undertaking, or one so deserving of public aid, and we trust that every assistance will be extended Mr. Green, not only in the information required, but in suggest one in relation to whatever might be valuable in such a work.

THE FREE SCHOOLS.—We learn that the Government decline to recognize or liquidate the claims advanced by the Free School Teachers for the last quarter's services. This is like refusing to pay for a dinner after it has been eaten. We hope the Government will reconsider its decision so that the valuable services of the Teachers may be recognized and required.

SIDEWALKS.—The warning of the Municipal Council comes not a moment too soon; a more dilapidated condition than some of the sidewalks are in it would be hard to describe.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—This body met yesterday at the store of Mr. Stahleohmidt, Wharf Street, to discuss the proposition of Confederation with Free Port. The meeting expressed itself in favor of Confederation provided Free Port could be secured, and a committee was appointed to draft an address—to be reported to a subsequent meeting—to His Excellency Governor Musgrave, setting forth the commercial advantages of Victoria, and how those advantages might be subserved with Confederation and a Free Port. The committee are: Messrs. G. Sutro, Burnaby, Findlay, L. Franklin, Stahleohmidt, R. Wallace, and Graucini. The tone of the meeting did not appear to be in favor of opening negotiations with Ottawa or London until after the presentation of the address to Mr. Musgrave.

THE SALT SPRING ISLAND MURDER.—Tschunahusset, the Chemamus Indian, convicted for murder at the last assizes and condemned to suffer death at the scene of his crime, has been taken up the coast for execution. On Thursday, Hon. D. B. Ring, the Counsel of the condemned man, accompanied by W. S. S. Green, Esq. Solicitor, waited on the Chief Justice and submitted the statement of several Chemamus Indians, which went to establish an alibi on behalf of the prisoner. The Chief Justice listened attentively to the statements, and said that he regretted that the statements were not made at the time of the trial. Mr. Ring explained the difficulty of procuring Indian testimony at the proper time, and the Chief Justice said he would take care that the statements should be laid before the Administrator of Government.

JAMES BAY BRIDGE appears doomed to fall a prey to the devouring element. Yesterday morning it was again on fire, and but for the timely appearance of the indomitable Josephs, City Messenger, would have been destroyed. Unless some plan can be devised to save this fine structure from destruction through the water-carriers of smoke, with the water so near, he must indeed be a lazy man who would drop a lighted match, or a cigar end, or knock the ashes from his pipe on the bridge.

Tax cargo of late taken by a steamer from the Alaska to San Francisco, has been seized for an alleged infraction of the laws which forbid the killing of female fur seals and pups. The value of the cargo is $500,000.

THE SAVINGS BANK at the Post Office was opened yesterday. It will be conducted by Mr. Berkeley, of the Treasury, and will remain open on Tuesdays and Fridays from 11 a. m. to 10 p. m. Several deposits were made yesterday.

It is reported that the deficit in the revenue occupied the attention of the Executive Council yesterday, to the exclusion of other matters.

THE new base ball club is called the "Dominion," and will play the renowned Olympics on the 10th inst. for the championship of the Colony.

THE steamship George S. Wright sailed at 4 yesterday morning for Portland.

Thunder and Gaus.

From the New York Times, June 1.

Rev. Newman Hall has just issued the London Peace Society. Mr. Henry Pease is in the chair, that he has received a letter from an eminent American clergyman, declaring that 'unless England offers a satisfactory settlement, she must expect from the thunder of Armstrong guns, and the rifle of Minnie balls.' At first, one might be incredulous about such a menace from an 'eminent American clergyman'; but unfortunately there is certain intrinsic evidence of authenticity in the letter which dispels doubt. It is precisely such a fire-earring authority that would labor under the impression that our batteries consist of 'Armstrong guns,' and our infantry weapons of 'Minnie' rifle and And, besides, it is curiously true, that in proportion to ones' own profession or purpose is removed from actual shaming in the strife, by so much do his words become bolder and more beligerent. After all, it is the 'men of peace' that are your real men of war at the onset. Senator Sumner's earliest laurels were gathered on the tranquil arena of a 'Peace Society,' and his last challenge to England is particularly described by its author as an effort in behalf of peace. Senator Chandler does not, it we understand his recent speech, propose to invade Canada in person, but to applaud while the 'Michigan veterans do it.' And so it is with France and the rest. The great military in brief are non militants, the fiercest beligerents are the non combatants; and hence we cannot but believe that Rev. Newman Hall did receive such a warning from an 'eminent American clergyman.' However, certain still more eminent American soldiers have given the country to understand that the watchword of the hour is 'Let us have Peace,' and their well known moderation and habitual abstinence from insulting menaces, may form a less doleful prospect for the London Peace Society to meditate upon.

A FELL-PROCEEDING.—Since the beginning of May there has been a succession of tell-tales in the lake district of Westmorland. On the fells of that region first of all the wind fell, then the snow fell, next the rain fell, and last the mercury fell.

A LADY, whose family were very much in the habit of making comedowns, was one evening asked by her husband, in an excited tone, "Why are those doors always left open?" "I give it up," instantly replied the wife.—Fun.

A Physician Refuses to Vaccinate His Child.

At Bow-street Dr. Skelton, M. D., M. R. C. S., of 105, Great Russell-street Bloomsbury, was summoned for unlawfully neglecting to "take or cause" his child to be vaccinated without reasonable excuse. The proceedings were issued at the instance of the Board of Guardians of the parish of St. George, Bloomsbury, under the Act 30 and 31 Victoria, cap. 84. Dr. Skelton pleaded "Guilty" and stated that his objections to comply with the Act were founded on conscientious belief that vaccination is injurious. During a practice of 14 years he had seen terrible results follow from the adoption of this system, and the worst cases were those in which the patient had been vaccinated twice and even three times. So far from being prophylactic, it was a great cause of the propagation of disease. He therefore refused to vaccinate his own or any other child. With regard to his own child, a perfectly healthy boy, he preferred to accept any ill with which Providence may visit him rather than by his own act incur others, of the extent of which neither he nor others could have any knowledge. Mr. Flowers said he was reluctant to impose a penalty upon any one whose refusal to comply with the Act was based upon scientific objection, but he was afraid he had no power to give force to such an objection. He had only to administer the law, and he must impose the penalty. Dr. Skelton was quite aware of that. He came to the court under the impression that the magistrate could deal with the law as it stood, and until it was altered by legislative enactment he was willing to abide by it. He said the law prohibited inoculation, also under penalties and yet the present system of vaccination was really a form of inoculation. As a rule the matter was conveyed from child to child, and he could not see how it was improved by being passed through the cow again. There was not a medical man in London who could conscientiously say that he had seen any original matter, even as much as one pustule, for the last forty years. Mr. Flowers said he had seen in the Lancet an advertisement that matter was to be obtained direct from the heifer, and he had naturally inferred that it was original matter. Dr. Skelton said that was not so. It was produced by vaccinating the heifer from a child, and probably had been passed from child to child for years. There was no original matter to be found except, perhaps, in some very remote places. Mr. Flowers said he was compelled to fine the defendant, but instead of imposing the full penalty of £1, he should mitigate it to 5s. He feared, however, Dr. Skelton would be summoned again and again. Dr. Skelton said he had no doubt of it. He was quite prepared for that. Mr. Flowers observed that Dr. Skelton would probably be compelled to have the child vaccinated at last. Dr. Skelton said he did not think so, and paid the fine.

The Northwest Territory.

[From the London Daily Telegraph, June 24.]

The main question is, what opening does the Territory present for emigration; and what advantages does it offer to the British Empire? Lord Bury, whose acquaintance with the country well qualifies him to speak on the subject, paints the prospects in colors of poetic warmth. A boundless field for the farmer, he contends, lies in the backwoods of our North American possessions, and so rich is it in navigable rivers that, if we build locks at a few rapids, our ships can sail from England up the St. Lawrence, through the great Lakes, and up the Saskatchewan River to the foot of the Rocky Mountains without breaking bulk. Some other speakers employed less glowing terms. Mr. Hamilton urges that between the end of Lake Superior and the fertile land of the West lie three hundred miles of trackless forest. Sir Westworth Dilke does not think that the route described by Lord Bury will ever be of much service to the India and China trade, because although it would be far shorter than that which is at present open to our merchant, it would necessitate four transshipments. We do not affect to underestimate those criticisms; but the fact remains that in the Hudson Bay Possessions we have a magnificent territory and almost unequalled means of communication with the West. The forest of which Mr. Hamilton speaks will not present an insuperable barrier. Since the country beyond that wilderness of pines is an Eden of fertility, it will sooner or later be cleared by the axe of the settler. The pressure of population from the Old World will serve to make a way towards a world so little known that it may fairly receive, in a novel sense, that title of New World which is already borne by America. In the future the annexation of the Hudson Bay territory to the North American Colonies will seem a great event. It is an event with which the statesmen who now preside over our Colonial Empire may be proud to link his name.

Here is a scene from the Parisian Assize Court: A young girl of nineteen is tried on a charge of having murdered her infant child. The poor creature sits sobbing convulsively on the bench of the accused, and is barely able to reply to the questions of the presiding judge. "How could you be so cruel as to kill your little babe?" he said in a voice not devoid of compassion. "Ah, Mr. President," she replied with streaming eyes, "I do not know how I came to do it! But, just think of it, here I was in this great city in mid-winter in a garret, without a friend, forsaken by my lover, without fire, without food, and oh! so sick I, then in my despair, I believe I did it. I want to kill myself, too." Her seducer was called as a witness. He showed his heartlessness by intimating that he had deserted his victim because she was not faithful to him. "Miserable villain, unfortunately human justice is unable to punish heartless monsters such as you, but there is not a decent man but will look with loathing and contempt upon you. Be off!" The girl was convicted and sent to the penitentiary for ten years; but the court and jury signed a petition to the Emperor to pardon her, and it was believed that Napoleon would order her release at an early day.

DEATH OF SIR R. J. CLIFTON, M. P. FOR NOTTINGHAM.—Sir Robert Clifton died yesterday (Sunday) morning at 3 o'clock. The hon. baronet had been suffering for the past fortnight from typhoid fever, but it was not anticipated that it would terminate fatally. The hon. baronet's pedigree dates from near the Conquest, and his ancestors have played not an unimportant part in history. The deceased baronet was the only son of the late Sir James Granville Clifton, and during his minority was connected with the turf, on which he suffered considerable losses, from which he never extricated himself, his estates being heavily mortgaged. Sir Robert successfully contested Nottingham in 1861, against the Whig party, who brought forward the present Duke of Newcastle (then Lord Lincoln) to oppose him. The hon. baronet was again returned in 1865, but was unsuccessful on petition along with Mr. Samuel Morley. He was, however, once more successful in 1868, being returned as the head of the poll. The deceased baronet was extremely popular with the working classes of Nottingham, by whom he will be much regretted. Sir Robert was in his 43d year, and leaves a widow, but no children. Nothing, of course, will be done with regard to the vacant seat until after the funeral; but it is quite expected that Mr. Bernal Osborne will be a candidate, though he may abstain from presenting himself at present out of regard to the memory of the deceased baronet.—Times

Victor Hugo's new novel, L'Homme qui Rit—the laughing man—opens in 1659 and closes in the reign of Queen Anne. It is the first of three novels, in which the social life of the eighteenth century is to be described with thoroughness. Aristocracy, Monarchy and Revolution are to be illustrated in separate novels. "The Laughing Man" is English aristocracy. The boy who is introduced in the first chapter and grows up to be the "laughing man," is the legitimate son of the old republican peer, Lord Clanchair, and is proved to be such by the testimony of a witness who is pressed to death for refusing to plead. In the course of the novel, the following speech is made by Ursus:

"Men and women of London, have am I. I congratulate you upon being English. You are a great people. I will go further, and say: you are a great populace. You have a sublime appetite. You're the one nation that eats all the others. That's the part to play. This swallowing up all the world puts England in a class by herself. In policy and philosophy, in the management of colonies, of people and of trade—in the firm desire for doing to others all kinds of harm that is good for yourselves—you stand alone and you are wonderful. The time is coming when there will be on earth two great signposts. On the one will be written 'Men,' and on the other 'Englishmen.' I merely state these facts to your greater honor and glory, not being a man and not being an Englishman, inasmuch as I have the honor to be a Bar. More than that, too, I'm a learned Doctor. The two things go together."

NOVEL END OF A BREACH OF PROMISE TRIAL.—I know a case in which a most eligible damsel was pronounced by her friends as unfit to marry a young divine, because, forsooth, she was "without a penny." He was weak-minded enough, after proposing to her in form, to give way to their remonstrances, and she was strong-minded enough to bring an action against him for "breach of promise." The damages were laid at five thousand pounds, and she gained them in full. The impressionable defendant, who wept nothing but ridicule for his former advisers, throughout this trying ordeal—which included a protracted cross-examination by Sergeant Valentine—was now brought to reason. He addressed the young lady even more fervently than before: "I have behaved infamously," he owned, "but if you will only forgive and forget, we may be happy yet. The only objection which my friends had to you is now removed. They can no longer say you are without a penny, since you have five thousand pounds of your very own." And the happy pair were married accordingly.—Chambers' Journal

An inebriated man walking along the streets at night, regarded the moon with sovereign contempt. "You needn't be so proud old fellow, he said. "You're full only once a month, and I am every night."

What is the difference between a dog belonging to a sailor and one of the principal planets? One is the tar's dog and other is the dogstar. (The perpetrator of this deserves a good evening.)

Constitutions contaminated with scrofula are more than any others subject to disease, and of course have far less power to withstand or recover from it. Hence it is in thousands of cases, the real cause of sickness death, where no ulcerous manifestations of the disorder appear. The influence of scrofula is found not only to aggravate the course of diseases, but it originates many of them. Dr. Walker's Vegetable Vinegar Bitters purifies the blood, purging out the rot and corruption that scrofula breeds in it, giving it renewed vitality, and the force of your thigh again.

The True Medical Doctrine.

Nature when struggling with disease, indicates unmistakably the kind of assistance she requires. In cases of nervous weakness and general debility, the feeble pulse, the lack-lustre eye, the attenuated frame the flaccid muscles, the melancholy visage, inform us as plainly as if each organ had a tongue, that a medicated stimulant is needed. It does not require the aid of a medical education to understand this dumb appeal for new vigor, from an exhausted system. Every reader of these lines can comprehend it just as well as the graduate of a physicians' college. Let not this demand of enfeebled nature be neglected. Respond to it promptly by commencing a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation uniting, in their highest excellence the properties of a stimulant, an invigorant and an alterative. Before three days have elapsed, from the taking of the first dose, a beneficial change will manifest in jodily and mental condition of the patient. The pulse will be stronger and more regular the eye will begin to lose its dull expression, the muscular and nervous systems to recover their tension, and the spirits to improve. Persevere and a complete revivification of the depressed animal and mental powers is certain. In cases of dyspepsia and biliousness, the same salutary results will be obtained. The appetite will revive, the salowness of the skin disappear, and all the distressing symptoms which accompany disorders of the stomach and liver will rapidly subside. The cold of winter often intensifies these complaints by checking the perspiratory action, by which so much morbid matter is evaporated through the pores in milder weather, and therefore the BITTERS are especially useful to the dyspeptic and at this season.

Rowlands' three great preparations for the hair, the complexion, and the teeth, are known in all quarters of the globe. Their famous "Macassar Oil" has been counterfeited in France, Germany, and elsewhere, but none of the spurious preparations have possessed the extraordinary properties of the genuine article. Rowlands' "Kalydor" for the complexion has retained its prominent place among fashionable cosmetics notwithstanding the numerous new articles introduced for the complexion. The "Odonto" for the teeth is highly prized by thousands who have used no other dentifrice for years. Rowlands' great success during the past two generations, and their present prominent position as manufacturers, may justly be attributed to the excellent character of their articles, and to the fact that unlike many other proprietors of established fame, they do not allow their cosmetics to deteriorate in quality.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—These celebrated Pills are essentially useful in purifying the blood cleansing the stomach, gently stimulating the kidneys, and acting as mild aperients. A few doses of this purifying medicine set the foulest stomach right, remove all bilious symptoms, steady the circulation, give strength to the muscles and composure to the brain and nerves. The Pills are so innocuous that they may be taken by persons in the most delicate state of health, and with marvellous effect. When the system has been generated by over-indulgence, or exhausted by morbid preparations, these Pills are excellent restoratives, they expel the poison and enrich the blood.

WALTHAM WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers, and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy this class in all these respects, it is to decide the question as to the real value of these timekeepers.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enable them to produce watches, COMBINING THE BEST AND LATEST IMPROVEMENT, and at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch, merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary. For sale by all dealers.

No watches retailed by the Company. ROBBINS & APPLETON, Gen'l Agents.

Medical.

French Medicines,
PREPARED BY GRIMAULT & CO.
Chemists to H.H.H. Prince Napoleon
PARIS.

These different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, founded on the principles of Chemistry and Therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names sufficiently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the Faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as a cure for every possible disease, and are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospitals or in the practice of the first medical men, are authorised by the Government. This fact may be a guarantee for the excellence of Messrs. Grimault & Co.'s Medicines.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES.

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,
623 KEARNEY STREET, CORNER
Concession, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Venereal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis, in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, &c. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcers. Legal successfully treated.

Dr. Gibbon has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year during which he was visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated Hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High Street, Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Luke's, Old street; St. Mary's, Cabot Place, Pad.; Lock, Harrow Road; University, Lower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary; Charing Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel Road, Royal Free, Gray's Inn Road; King's College, Portugal street.

Dr. Gibbon has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.
How many thousands of persons, both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret venereal diseases, or from syphilis absorbed into the system. Loss of their pituitary, emaciated and disfigured faces, and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them from the happiness of marriage or of the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are carefully and discreetly treated by a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years, who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those afflicted, or to those who are near and in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from European and other places. In such cases, the patient, after making inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Married Men.
Semi- "Emancipation" the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz.: Salivary countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blun of intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, nervous and various eruptions about the face, furrowed tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and cure will be effected by a new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he has cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men.
Of those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these venereal diseases, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them not to delay to obtain immediate relief.

Dr. Gibbon is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to "treat a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge."

Cured at Home.
Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, enclosing a recent photograph of the disease, and stating the duration, length of time the disease has continued, and day medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and currency, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions of use. By enclosing $10 in currency or $10 in coin, in a registered letter through the Post Office or through Wells Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded by express to any part of the Pacific Coast.

Address Dr. J. Gibbon, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco.—Post office box 252.
